THE WORLD BAR

According to The World Bar in the Trump World Tower, there's nothing better to toast to than world peace. Across the street from the United Nations, master mixologist Jonathan Pogash has created the "World Peace" cocktail to cater to business executives from New York and around the world. "We are using cocktail diplomacy to help bring about peace to an increasingly restless world," said Mark Grossich, CEO of Hospitality Holdings. The cocktail, offered exclusively at The World Bar, is $15.00 with 15% being donated directly to the United Nations' peacekeeping efforts. -JW
